

MAKING CALIFORNIA PARKS MORE WELCOMING, ACCESSIBLE, AND RELEVANT TO ALL VISITORS.

Route To Parks

California is home to the largest and most diverse state park system in the country. Yet the very people who give our state its unique mix of diversity and beauty can't find affordable and easy access to state parks and beaches.

The reasons are multifaceted. They are rooted in long-standing structural challenges, and they can only be overcome through an inclusive, hand-in-hand collaboration with those who are most affected.

Parks California's Route To Parks grants program supports organizations that are finding innovative solutions to address barriers in those parts of the state with the greatest transportation needs. The program increases park access, and enhances the park experience by providing visitors a new range of recreational, cultural, and historical learning opportunities.

The diversity of state park visitors should match the diversity of our state's park system.

Your support will:

- Address transportation barriers for those who need it most
- Create longstanding, scalable and replicable solutions
- Develop a collaborative network of new partners across the state
